THE TIMES KODAK.

Items of News Gathered About Town.At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of the First ward, held in the dry branch store Wednesday night, resolutions were passed, instructing the councilmen from the First ward to vote against the proposed extension of the Roanoke and Salem Street railway up College Avenue and Main Street to Hotel Lucerne. A resolution informing the council that it was the sense of the meeting that they should allow the proposed extension up College Avenue and Main Street under proper restrictions, and provided the line was continued at once to Lake Spring, was adopted almost unanimously.The reporter interviewed thirty-one property owners and business men along College Avenue and Main Street, and whilst they nearly all opposed granting an extension up these streets to Hotel Lucerne only, there were twenty-two who were in favor of granting an extension to the street railway under certain restrictions, provided the line was extended to Lake Spring. The council meets next Saturday week to decide the matter.Dr. Killian had half a dozen fowls made to keep the furnace in blast a little while longer.The convention to be held here tomorrow bids to be one of the most stirring that has ever been held in Roanoke county, as the fight for the nomination for the county clerkship is going to be most determined. In alluding to yesterday a prominent citizen said to the reporter: "I observe that within the past few days numbers of students from Roanoke College are being registered.

Why is this? The law of the State requires that a man shall be a citizen of the county, not a mere sojourner in a county, before he has a right to vote.
The students of the University of Virginia never even attempt to vote in Charlottesville, but go home to their own counties when they wish to exercise that privilege. Surely a student from Winchester or Scott county would not expect by his vote to control the county affairs of Roanoke."At the Baptist Church on Wednesday night, after delivering a lecture on the first Psalm, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Taylor, baptized four persons.The friends of local option in Salem Martha G. Board, widow of the late Col. G. B. Board, died at her residence on Main Street early yesterday morning, aged 61 years. Mrs. Board was a Miss Garwood, of this county, before she married the late Col. Board. She was a consistent member of the Episcopal Church, and having abundant means, gave cheerfully and freely to the poor. Her funeral will take place to-day at 3:30 p. m. from the Episcopal Church, and the remains will be buried in East Hill Cemetery. She leaves in real estate and dividend-paying stocks and bonds about $60,000, and like her late husband does not forget Roanoke

The Judge Brooke Case.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

The present tendency of the courts to go beyond their judicial functions and actively engage in legislation is liable at any time to imperil the freedom of the press and liberty of the citizen.
Fortunately our judges, as a rule, love justice and desire to keep within the well defined limits of the law. Sometimes they may go too far, but it is not likely that they will ever as a class, show a disposition to abuse the great power confided to their hands. One thing is certain—the press of this country will continue to do business at the same old stand, giving the news and commenting on it, or 65,000,000 people will have something to say about it.

It Never Occurred to Him.

A very clever but slightly eccentric painter named Barrett had a fondness for cats. He kept two of them. One was but a kitten at the time when this incident occurred, the other was advanced in years and of considerable size. One afternoon a caller at Barrett's studio noticed two holes in the bottom of the studio door, and he asked the painter what they were for.
"For the cats to go in and out," said Barrett."Why do you have two of them?" asked the caller. "Would not one have been sufficient?""Why, how absurd!" answered Barrett. "Can't you see that they are needed? How could the big cat pass in and out through the little hole?""But," persisted his friend, "why could not the little cat have used the big hole?""Hush!" ejaculated Barrett. "She could; but really, now, it never occurred to me before."—Harper's Young People.

Only One Cause Left.

Consumer—My goodness! Coal up again. What's the cause this time? Another combine?Dealer—Oh, no, sir, no combine, I assure you.

"Railroad blockade?"

"No. Everything is running."

"No strike?"

"Not that I've heard of."

"Excessive demand, perhaps?"

"No, nothing extra."

"Failure of supply, possibly?"

"Haven't heard of any."

"Humph! If coal has gone up again, there must be some cause. What keeps prices rising now?""I really don't know, sir. Guess it must be just habit, that's all."—N. Y.
Weekly.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

"Do you ever commit your verses?" asked the managing editor of a poet with a manuscript."Oh, yes, indeed; I can recite one of them which—""Oh, I beg pardon. I did not mean do you commit them to memory, but do you ever commit them to the flames?"And he went out with a hunted look in his eyes.—Chicago Mail.

Bound to Beat Her Neighbor.

"Do divorcees come high?" inquired the timid little thing of the Chicago legal light.

"Oh, no, ma'am," he replied.

"What did Mrs. Highflyer pay for hers last week?"

"One hundred and fifty dollars."

"Well, you may get me one for two hundred. I'm no slouch."—Judge.

The First Stage.

"So his mother intends to make a pianist of him?"

"Yes."

"Whom has she selected as his teacher?""She hasn't got that far yet; at present she is just letting his hair grow."—

Where It Would Have Looked Well.

"Gentlemen," said the candidate for office, as he squirted a stream of tobacco juice on the pavement below, "my character is spotless.""Then it's a pity," said some one in the crowd, "that you can't wear it for a shirt."—Texas Siftings.

REASONS

Why You Should Advertise in

THE ROANOKE TIMES.

CIRCULATION.

It has the largest circulation of any daily in Virginia west of Richmond.

SIZE.

It is the largest daily in Virginia—eight pages, forty-eight columns.

NUMBER OF ADVERTISEMENTS.

It prints a larger number of advertisements than any daily south of the Potomac and east of the Mississippi, three only excepted.

PATRONAGE.

It prints a larger number of advertisements than any other daily printed in a city of 25,000 inhabitants in America.

A CHALLENGE.

It challenges comparison with any daily in America printed in a city of 25,000.

THE BIG FOUR.

Coal, Iron, Timber, Blue Grass.

REASONS

Why You Do Not Advertise in THE ROANOKE TIMES:

BECAUSE you don't know that Southwest Virginia has within ten years grown 200,000 in population and received

EIGHTY MILLION DOLLARS

of foreign capital.

BECAUSE you don't know that THE TIMES is the representative organ of that population and that capital.BECAUSE you don't know that this new population presents the most fertile advertising field in America.
